Winnipeg May Avert Street Car Strike

Cars Run As Two Sides In Manitoba Capital Debate

Pending Outcome of Negotiations There Will Be No Strike in Winnipeg, Says Street Railwaymen's Secretary; Federal, City and Company Representatives Share in Wage Discussion

Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—Federal, civic and Winnipeg Electric Company officials to-day acted in an attempt to avert a strike of Street Railway employees. Negotiations between representatives of the men and employers, which extended through the forenoon hours, were continued this afternoon.

"Pending the outcome of these negotiations there will be no strike," said Alex Hume, secretary of the Street Railwaymen's Union.

At the same time Mayor Ralph H. Webb and M. S. Campbell of the Dominion Department of Labor, sought to avoid a tie-up of street car traffic in Greater Winnipeg by appealing to the street railway workers who yesterday voted 613 to 146 in favor of striking in protest against a 10 per cent wage reduction proposal.

Major Webb held a conference this forenoon with Edward Armstrong, president of the Street Railwaymen's Union, and Mr. Hume. What proposals or suggestions he laid before the men's leaders were not made known, but the mayor expressed the hope that as a result of the conference there would be negotiations which would avert a strike.

ARREST FOLLOWS LONG PURSUIT

P. Jennette, Accused of Slaying Farmer, Taken in Moose Jaw

Moose Jaw, Sask., Jan. 8.—Peter Jennette, sought by police for the killing yesterday morning of R. W. Fitch, Dunkirk farmer, was arrested on downtown street here today.

Fitch was shot to death as he walked from his house to his barn. The arrest followed a search of southern Saskatchewan yesterday by Royal Canadian Mounted police and a farmer posse. The man offered no resistance when police picked him up in the business section of Moose Jaw.

Three times searchers sighted Jennette yesterday as they followed him over a snow trail from near Dunkirk to Moose Jaw and shots were exchanged three times. None took effect. The wanted man, alleged to have shot Fitch and then told Mrs. Fitch he was responsible for her husband's death before leaving the farm, was lost sight of by trailing police when he walked into Moose Jaw at dusk yesterday evening.

TOLD OF ANGER
"I shot him because he made me mad," Mrs. Fitch said Jennette told her. He was employed as hired man on the Fitch farm.

Trucks in the snow of the fleeing farm hand were easily followed by searchers. He was first sighted not far from the Fitch homestead and ordered to throw up his hands. He was fired at by pursuers. As Constable J. McNally returned the fire Jennette ran in the direction of a small ravine and disappeared.

Twice yesterday afternoon searchers had a glimpse of Jennette, but always he eluded them, reaching Moose Jaw safely.

FOUND AT MONTREAL
Montreal, Jan. 8.—The pound sterling was quoted at $4.03 in local foreign exchange deals at 3 p.m. to-day.

Mr. Latham and Sir Granville Ryrie, who is Australian High Commissioner in Great Britain, were appointed Australian delegates to the conference. Sir Granville will act alone at Geneva until Mr. Latham is able to reach the conference.

DECREE GIVES INDIA JUDGES GREAT POWERS

Courts May Pass Death Sentences Without Presence of the Accused

President and Secretary of the Nationalist Congress Are Arrested

Bombay, India, Jan. 8.—The Government of India promulgated an ordinance to-day investing special judges with power to pass any sentence, including the sentence of death on anyone who disobeys the emergency powers ordinances.

These judges, the new decree states, may pass sentences without the presence of the accused and by recording only the substance of the evidence.

New Delhi, Jan. 8.—Dr. Ansari, acting president of the All-India Nationalist Congress, was arrested to-day. The Government extended the ordinance against unlawful associations to Delhi province and the Presidency of Madras.

SECRETARY ARRESTED
London, Jan. 8.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Bombay to-day said General Secretary of the All-India Nationalist Congress and a number of others had been arrested at Karachi.

RELEASE OF PRISONERS URGED
Bombay, India, Jan. 8.—A resolution sponsored by supporters of Mahatma Gandhi, urging the Viceroy to withdraw all restrictive measures, to release the arrested Nationalist leaders and to negotiate with Mahatma Gandhi will be considered by the Bombay Cotton Brokers Association next Monday. The resolution asserts the Viceroy's refusal to grant an interview to Mahatma Gandhi, the trusted and accredited leader of the nation, is an insult to the whole nation.

Bombay, Jan. 8.—The Nationalists, scores of their leaders throughout India under arrest and a number of the headquarters occupied during the last two or three days, to-day seemed to have taken courage in action under the crushing power of successive government ordinances which set up a state closely resembling martial law.

Patriotic Plan For Pupils Is Fully Adopted

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe's recent order to all schools in British Columbia to open the week with patriotic exercises will be in full effect next Monday in Victoria schools. It was learned to-day, Students will be assembled in the playgrounds and will be required to salute the flag and sing one verse of "God Save the King."

Daring New York Jewel Robbery

New York, Jan. 8.—Jewelry valued at $50,000 was stolen early to-day from the Park Avenue home of Albert Tiney, chairman of the board of the Bankers' Trust Company.

The thief climbed the fire escape to the ninth floor Tiney Apartment, entered Mrs. Tiney's room and looted a jewel case.

On the other hand the publication of the news item had been welcomed in some sources. Some people who cut down on their greeting cards feel now their friends may read a reason why they did not get the customary annual expression of goodwill. Others who missed a look-for-greeting and wondered if a bridge of friendship had been broken, find consolation in thinking their card may have been among the forty-two destroyed by the nervous husband.

CEASES TO BE FOREIGN AFFAIRS HEAD OF FRANCE

ARISTIDE BRIAND

Paris, Jan. 8.—It was semi-officially announced to-night that Aristide Briand had placed his portfolio as Minister of Foreign Affairs in the hands of Premier Laval.

"It is assured," this announcement said, "that M. Briand informed the Premier during the day that because of the state of his health, which imposes certain precautions, he thought it his duty to put the portfolio of Foreign Affairs at the Premier's disposal, to the end that another can be named in his place."

But He Died Just as She Was Sailing on Boat and Turned Back

Margaret Evelyn Hall, the English girl who gave up her position and home to come to Victoria to be the companion of her uncle, Alexander Patrick Stephen of Oak Bay, but who turned back just as the boat was sailing from England last August on the receipt of a cable that he had died here, will inherit the residue of the $18,000 Stephen estate, Mr. Justice Gregory of the Supreme Court ruled in his judgment here to-day.

The case has been before the court here for some months.

Many Husbands Under Yuletide Card Suspicion

The Times May Be Forced to Publish Name of Man Who Destroyed Forgotten Greetings Yesterday to Remove Doubt in Many Other Wives' Minds. "Did You Mail Our Christmas Cards," Scores of Husbands Were Asked Yesterday.

For the protection of scores of husbands now resting under suspicion that threatens domestic happiness it may be found necessary to disclose the name of the well-known Victoria business man who yesterday found forty-two Christmas cards his wife had given him to mail and destroyed them to eliminate the evidence against him.

After the publication yesterday of the story of the man who found the cards in his pocket when he switched from his new to his old overcoat and then, in fear of discovery, tore them up and threw them in the wastepaper basket, many husbands were subjected to searching questioning yesterday evening from wives who had had the first opportunity to read the news item. Husbands with new overcoats had particular difficulty in making explanations, and one or two have appeared, in the interests of self-protection for the name of the real victim to be published so their innocence may be proved.

On the other hand the publication of the news item had been welcomed in some sources. Some people who cut down on their greeting cards feel now their friends may read a reason why they did not get the customary annual expression of goodwill. Others who missed a look-for-greeting and wondered if a bridge of friendship had been broken, find consolation in thinking their card may have been among the forty-two destroyed by the nervous husband.

Physicians said the Consul's condition was not serious.

Support Appealed For In Prosperity Drive

Chamber of Commerce Quarterly Report Shows Great Activity Here

Continued support and co-operation of the members in a move to make the organization a constructive force in the development of genuine prosperity in the community was asked in an appeal from the president and directors of the Chamber of Commerce in the quarterly report of the directors submitted to the general membership at its luncheon in the chamber to-day.

The report touched upon the work of the secretary during his recent trip to eastern Canada, briefly dealt with the activities of the fish and game conservation committee backed by the chamber and sketched the attitude of the chamber to other matters.

"The report, in full, read as follows: 'Since the last quarterly meeting, many activities of a varied nature have been undertaken by different committees of the chamber, although such activities were unavoidably curtailed for a brief period through the intervention of the Christmas and New Year holidays.'

CONTRADICTED CENSUS
"Immediately following the publication of the official census returns, your board of directors objected to the figures pertaining to the population of Victoria as being misleading, inasmuch as they only gave the population of the electoral district of Victoria. Since that time letters have been dispatched to all boards of trade and chambers of commerce throughout Canada, pointing out this fact and stating that the figures for Greater Victoria were not quoted."

"Your managing secretary attended the agricultural conference held under the auspices of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at Toronto in November. He also visited Ottawa and took up with various officials of the Dominion Government the matters which have been pending during the last six months, including the fish and game regulations, customs regulations affecting tourists and restrictions made on news."

Ernest Baines, middle-aged superintendent of Balfour School Home for Boys, who was to appear in city police court this morning to answer a serious charge, was run over and killed by a freight train pulling out for Pin Point, Manitoba, in the downtown C.N.R. yards at 8:15 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Baines formerly held pastorates of the United Church at Saltcoats and Unity. He left Unity to take charge of the boarding school last September and was widely known and respected.

LEAP YEAR

Leap year and the open hunting season has been declared on bachelors!

An inquiring reporter set out to find out what is the attitude of the girls and young men of Victoria on the leap year custom of giving the women full scope in proposing marriage to the men.

The results have been assembled in a special story to be printed as a feature of the magazine section of The Victoria Times to-morrow. Other features of the Saturday magazine section will include: To destroy religion, home and morality, Russia continues her ruthless warfare, with rampart atheism aiming to spread faith side line in these days of hard times.

SEES GERMANY AS BIG CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson Reviews World Economic Situation

Tells Chamber of Commerce Meeting That Few Improvements This Year

In Germany lies the chief cause of the present economic depression, in the opinion of Lieutenant-Governor J. W. Fordham Johnson, who addressed members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, at a well-attended quarterly meeting in the Chamber's auditorium to-day.

Germany, with its armaments in 1914, was the greatest menace to the peace of the world. To-day, with her financial difficulties, it stood as a menace to the economic state of the world, his Honor said.

He forecast the reoccupation of the Ruhr by France should Hitler go into power in Germany and enforce the payment of commercial debts ahead of reparations.

The world would not be out of its economic depression by the end of 1932, he feared.

"My reason for talking on this subject lays in the fact that for the last twenty-five years of my life I have been interested in big business," said his Honor.

"My business experience compelled me to take an interest in the whole world. Every day I received telegrams from New York, London and Hamburg," he said, adding that each week he received letters from many countries which kept him informed on world-wide conditions. He proposed to refer to the influence of Europe in the present depression.

DEPRESSION IN 1893
Going back to 1893, he spoke of the depression in those days. It was not as bad as the present one, he continued. Many people thought Canada, with its natural wealth and enlightened people could remain insular, in his opinion it could not.

"We have not seen the end of the depression yet, and I do not think 1932 will see many of us in better circumstances," his Honor said.

Report to U.S. Wickersham Commission Accused Prosecution in Mooney Case

Associated Press
Washington, Jan. 8.—"Flagrant violations" of California law by police and the prosecution in the famous Mooney-Billings case are charged in a hitherto unpublished report submitted to the Wickersham Commission.

The document sent to the Senate by the Justice Department in response to a resolution requesting it, was not accepted by the Wickersham Commission, which contended it had no right to review state cases.

The report was made by Zachariah Chaffee Jr., Walter H. Pollam and Carl S. Stern, research and investigation experts of the commission.

Statements By Great Britain and France on Action of U.S. Are Awaited

Japanese Hold There Is No Call For Intervention By Powers

Canadian Press and Associated Press Dispatches
London, Jan. 8.—To-day's newspapers published under big headlines reports of the United States action in invoking the Nine-Power Treaty in Manchuria, but officials had no comment.

The government was considering the situation to-day, and it was expected it would be known by to-night whether the United States note would be followed by similar representations by Great Britain.

Paris, Jan. 8.—Whether France will follow the lead of the United States in invoking the Nine-Power Treaty in the Far East remained uncertain to-night after a Foreign Office statement that no decision had been reached.

HOPES IN CHINA
Nanking, Jan. 8.—Receipt of news from Washington that the United States Government had invoked the Nine-Power Treaty in connection with the Manchurian question caused a stir in official circles to-day. The first reaction seemed to be a distinct feeling of optimism regarding future Manchurian developments. An official statement was expected later.

ATTITUDE OF JAPANESE
Tokyo, Jan. 8.—United States Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes presented the note from Henry L. Stimson, United States Secretary of State, to the Japanese government to-day.

Glendora, Mass., Jan. 8.—Mississippi and Louisiana river men were asked to-day to hurry boats to this section for the rescue of 2,000 persons in the flood patch resulting from the latest levee break near Sharkey, Miss.

The Red Cross said 200 paddle and motorboats were needed to carry provisions and bring out refugees. Only two score boats had been made available and these, the Red Cross said, could not hope to cope with the situation.

Red Cross investigations disclosed no loss of life, but approximately 50,000 acres were overflooded by the new break and homes of thousands were flood-swept. The flood's depth of thirty feet at Twilight was lessened as the water spread over a twenty-mile area.

DELEGATES APPOINTED
Rome, Jan. 8.—Minister of Finance Antonio Mosconi was named to-day director of the Italian delegation to the international conference on reparations at Lausanne, Switzerland. He will be assisted by Professor Alberto Beneduce, who headed the recent Young Plan Commission inquiry at Basel. Alberto Pirelli and Gino Buti, Foreign Office reparations experts.

PRAIRIE FARMERS MOVE FOR A HALF-HOLIDAY EACH WEEK

U.F.A. Convention to Be Told Farmers Should Have More Leisure Time

Canadian Press
Calgary, Jan. 8.—Among the numerous resolutions to be presented to the United Farmers of Alberta at their annual convention in Edmonton January 19 is one proposing a radical change in the farmer life—a half-holiday each week for the tillers of the soil during summer months. This resolution will be presented by the representatives from the U.F.A. of the Federal Constituency Association of Wetaskiwin.

The days when the Alberta farmers arose before dawn and toiled till after sunset should end, it was declared. Machinery has lessened the farmers' work and it is the Wetaskiwin Association's belief there should be given more opportunity to take part in community events, such as business conferences, picnics and swimming parties, and hear addresses on current events.

Discussion of Reductions in Grants Features Meeting in Royal City

Canadian Press.
New Westminster, Jan. 8.—The unemployment relief situation and the serious problem which has followed the curtailment of original unemployment relief agreements will be discussed with the Provincial Cabinet by the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at an early date.
At a special meeting of the executive and the Fraser Valley Regional Association, the latter body has passed a resolution authorizing a meeting with the cabinet. The date will be as soon after the municipal elections as possible.
Reeve W. A. Pritchard, Burnaby, president of the union, occupied the chair.

CABINET CHANGES ARE ANTICIPATED SOON IN FRANCE

Paris, Jan. 8.—That Aristide Briand, veteran of thirty years of French politics and known as "Europe's peace-maker," will resign the post of Foreign Minister, which he has held for seven years, seemed assured to-day.
The non-partisan newspaper Excelsior said flatly that Premier Laval and Mr. Briand had agreed the latter would exchange the foreign ministry for appointment as a Minister of State (minister without portfolio), and that, as a consequence, the Laval cabinet would resign soon after the funeral of the late War Minister, Andre Maginot.
This would mean that the cabinet would resign a fortnight short of its first birthday in office. What combination would succeed it was not regarded as definite to-day.
Premier Laval and his friends have said they are anxious to set up a coalition government on the broadest possible scale, in view of the importance of the issues to be decided by the coming international conferences at Lausanne and Geneva. Political observers remarked, however, that such coalition in the past, when tried by Poincare, Briand and Tardieu, had not produced the results expected. They said the possibility of the shake-up might result only in a regrouping of the present cabinet must not be overlooked. Much was said to depend on the results of Premier Laval's coming conferences with political leaders, most of whom are now absent from Paris but are expected to return within a week.

RETURNS TO OTTAWA

Calgary, Jan. 8.—Premier Bennett will leave Calgary, where he has been visiting for a few days, for the east late to-day and will proceed direct to Ottawa. While here he discussed with Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta and Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan.

LOCK OUT IN INDIA

New Delhi, India, Jan. 8.—The Great Indian Peninsula Railway declared a lockout at the Nattunga shops to-day. The men already were on strike because of a reduction in pay.
Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—Chilling winter centred an attack of below-zero blizzards on Saskatchewan to-day, kept firm grip on western and northern Manitoba and apparently had temporarily abandoned the foothills country of Alberta.

WORK ON OLYMPIC TRIALS

"Your board of directors, in conjunction with local swimming clubs, is making a strong endeavor to bring the 1932 Olympic Swimming Trials to Victoria, and it is hoped that a definite and favorable decision will be secured before the end of January."
"Your directors have placed themselves on record as being opposed to any further increase in the tax on gasoline at the present time."
"The agricultural group has inaugurated a series of monthly lectures to be given by experts on matters relating to agricultural development, and it is hoped under its new chairman, Rev. W. Montague-Bruce, that considerable interest will be taken in the work of that group."
"The Junior Chamber of Commerce is inaugurating a new programme of work. The Canadian Products group of this section has conducted an essay contest on "Why I Should Buy Canadian Products." This contest was very successful, and considerable interest was secured from the public from among the Women's Institutes particularly, as to the importance of buying Canadian products."
"The effective speaking group of the Junior Chamber is holding regular meetings. Special committees have been appointed to consider questions which do not ordinarily come under the jurisdiction of the standing groups or committees."
"Your president and directors hope that they will be favored with the continued support from all members during the present year, in order that the work of the chamber may assist in bringing about genuine prosperity for our community at large."

SEES GERMANY AS BIG CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

The menace to-day was Germany, he said. Germany, to his mind, was a bankrupt nation.
Germany in 1914 was a menace with her arms. Now she was a menace through her financial standing. Germany had borrowed colossal sums, he noted, but forebore to say that "she had put it over on these very clever international bankers" on whom, he indicated, pressure had been brought to bear.
Since the Young Advisory Board had "rearranged the world," Germany had borrowed $4,225,000,000. Of this

U.B.C. Surprises Editor of "Varsity" of Toronto

Canadian Press.
Vancouver, Jan. 8.—Free mingling of the young men and women at the University of British Columbia brought amazed ejaculations from W. H. Payton, editor of the University of Toronto publication, The Varsity, when he visited the university here.
Here are some of the things that surprised the visitor from the Ontario university:
Co-eds going to tea with men students on the campus.
Men and women students sitting side by side in classrooms.
Men students having to remove their hats on entering university buildings.
In Toronto University, said Mr. Payton, men and women were never allowed inside the doors.
"And why should we change such an old custom because of the advent of women?" he asked.
In Toronto, co-eds dining or "teasing" at the same restaurants as men students, "simply isn't done." As for a girl to have a meal with him at the university was an impossibility, he said.
Even in classrooms men and women students were segregated as much as possible.
"The men sit on one side of the classroom," said, "and the women on the other."

AUTO SQUADS OF B.C. POLICE HUNT BAGLEY

No Trace of G. Fawcett and Companion, Escaped Oakalla Men, Yet Found

Canadian Press.
Vancouver, Jan. 8.—Determined to trace down every clue and "tip" in their hunt for William Bagley and Gordon Fawcett, the only unaptured pair of the five Oakalla jailbreakers, Vancouver and provincial police have prowler squads constantly on the move. Scores of rumors have been investigated.
Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning a group of provincial and city police officers left, armed with tear gas and shotguns, for an unnamed destination. It was rumored they were called to investigate a "hot" tip that the pair were in the neighborhood.
An Oxford Street resident supplied what police consider an important clue last night.
From the first it was reported he saw a car at 11:30 p.m. at 2750th and Dundas Streets by a man who asked him if it were possible to rent a gasbo. "The man said he must get to North Vancouver that night," the citizen told the police.
Prowler squads yesterday afternoon answered a call to the waterfront near the foot of Victoria Drive, where they questioned two men, answering the question of whether they were Bagley and Fawcett had been seen in an empty box car. Search of the district revealed no trace of the men, however.

DREDGE REPORT

Provincial police investigated reports that a man resembling Bagley had questioned two employees of the government dredge which is working in False Creek near the Burrard Street Bridge, asking whether any small boats were seen in that vicinity at that hour.
It is thought the escaped men came to Vancouver, where they obtained clothing from Bagley's friends, and then departed.
Frank Scott, who was wearing mistletoe when captured yesterday, was wearing a dark suit and a hat.

NO KIDS REPORTED

Up to this afternoon the police had reported no results from their search to-day.

COURT AWARDS ESTATE TO GIRL

Under the terms of the will, Miss Hall was to become his heir "if she came to Victoria and took up her residence and looked after him in his declining days." But, the will stated, that if she failed to provide proper companionship during his declining years, the estate was to go to charities.
D. S. Hall, the executor, asked the court to decide that Miss Hall had complied with the terms of the will by giving up her position and staying for Victoria, although she did not serve her uncle. He said she had shown her intention and would have carried out his wishes had he not died.
The executor also asked that Miss Hall, the residuary legatee, have everything within her power to satisfy the terms of the will and the Attorney-General offers no opposition to the residuary estate being paid to Miss Hall, said the justice.

States Secretary of State, on the Manchurian situation to the Japanese Foreign Office late to-day, and official circles expressed the view that the military operations in Manchuria were not of a nature to justify intervention by third powers.

Japanese Ambassador Debut also called a text of Secretary Stimson's note, which invoked the Nine-Power Treaty, and it was reiterated that Japan had made no demands in Manchuria except with respect to her treaty rights and that, even in the face of the representations of other powers, there was little chance Japan would modify its Manchurian policy.

DIRECT RELIEF IS DISCUSSED

Council Adopts Policy of Substituting Straight Help For Unemployed Works

Details of the plan to substitute direct relief for the unemployed in the place of relief work, which will be closed down in the near future, were threshed out by the public works committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon.

While the session was held in camera on vote of the majority as being in the best interests of the public, authorization was given Mayor Leeming, the chairman, to sanction publication of the proceedings.

The date for cessation of the present relief work was left undecided, pending a report from the city engineer in the best method of tapering off the programme. This will be discussed at the committee's meeting next week.

Direct relief will be given to both single and married men under the provisions laid down by the provincial government, in which the government provides a portion of the cost.

Mayor Leeming, as chairman of the public works, Aid P. R. Brown, as chairman of the finance committee, and Aid Alex Feden, as chairman of the welfare committee, were named a special committee to handle the administration of the direct relief and report once each week to the major body.

15,000 A WEEK
It was explained that the city is now spending about $15,000 per week

YOUNG EDITOR OF NORTH HERE

Fourteen-year-old Boy, Who Publishes Paper on Naas River, Visits The Times

W. Dudley Thorne Started Publication When Eleven; Young Brother Helps Him

On his first visit to the office of a daily newspaper, W. Dudley Thorne, fourteen, editor and publisher of The Kinloch Times, youngest newspaperman of the Canadian northland, called at The Times this week and talked over his problems with members of the staff.

With him he brought a copy of The Kinloch Times, a two-page monthly, printed by typewriter and carbon paper, and carrying news of local interest to the small town on the Naas River, where he produces the only paper of its kind in the north.

Although the circulation is limited, his publication, which, for the last two years, has gone to press regularly each month, is exceptionally well composed. It includes the usual items, a continued story and frequently there are editorials on various matters of public interest.

Editor Thorne, whose only assistant is a younger brother, started the sheet at the age of eleven and has published it regularly since then, charging a subscription of one dollar a year, since he is unable to make revenue on advertising.

But the future of the paper is threatened. Young Thorne has left his home town to continue studies at the North Shore School, Vancouver, and may have to drop his editorial endeavor until he graduates.

At present he is busy getting out a special New Year's edition which will go to the different subscribers by mail in the next day or two.

John Hoad, provincial archivist and librarian, has shown considerable interest in the writings of the young man, whom he has commended for his originality and enterprise.

The juvenile editor is at present spending his holidays with Dr. E. C. Hart, 1513 Laurel Place.

Canada's Exports
Of Tobacco To Britain Grow

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 8.—The British smoker is tuning his palate to Canadian tobacco. Imports through the port of London of Canadian tobacco in 1931 amounted to 2,070,000 pounds, against 728,000 pounds in 1930. Formerly Canadian tobacco was blended with other grades, but a large proportion is now sold separately.

Aviator Ordered

Canadian Press
Abbotsford, B.C., Jan. 8.—Alvin E. Paulson, Seattle aviator, arrested December 22 when his plane crashed while attempting to take off at Sumas, was sentenced yesterday to a fine of $500 or three months' imprisonment for illegal entry into Canada and failing to report to the proper authorities.

Two white men and three Chinese, one of whom was slightly injured when the plane crashed, were arrested with Paulson, but subsequently were released when the white men were found to have no connection with the case and the Chinese had proved legal entrance into Canada.

Paulson's five-passenger plane has been confiscated by the customs officials.

1931 OAK BAY COUNCIL HOLDS FINAL MEETING

Reeve and Other Public Officials to Address Public Gathering Next Thursday

The final regular meeting of the 1931 Oak Bay Council was held in the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon. Reeve E. C. Hayward was in the chair and there was a full attendance of the councillors.

It was announced that a public Chamber meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when Reeve Hayward, the councillors, school trustees and police commissioners would speak on affairs of the last year. Candidates in the coming elections for the various public bodies in Oak Bay will be invited to give a short talk at this meeting.

The sitting of the Court of Revision was postponed until January 28 because of the elections next week. The entire council will act as the court.

A letter from the School Board asking for an extension to the Willows playing grounds was received and filed. It will be discussed in committee meeting.

The municipal engineer was instructed to look into the condition of Byng Street, following the reading of a letter from Mrs. Maude Clubb, who asked for some improvement in the road in front of her house. The engineer will have holes in the road filled in with cinders and will also make a report to the council on the idea of a local improvement plan for the street.

A letter was read, signed by Mr. and Mrs. J. Berwick, P. V. Richardson, Peter Burns, Frederick Moss, W. F. Daw and H. N. Olsen, asking for the paving of Burdick Avenue at the entrance to the Uplands, under the local improvement plan. The council instructed the clerk to write the interested parties, setting out the usual procedure in such cases and giving an estimate of the cost of such work.

The council discussed, at some length, the selling of some of its debentures, and came to the conclusion that the present was an inopportune time for such action. The matter was turned over to the finance committee for further investigation. This committee will report to the council at a later date.

Unemployment was briefly discussed. The council adopted the report from the committee of the whole, which had to do with the scheme that municipalities be allowed to borrow, on the proper security, from the Dominion Government for the relief of unemployment. The committee, however, did not recommend this plan for Oak Bay, and the council also voted against it.

J. W. FORDNEY, EX-LEGISLATOR OF THE U.S., DIES

With Senator P. J. McCumber He Sponsored U.S. Tariff Act of 1921

Associated Press
Saginaw, Mich., Jan. 8.—Joseph Warren Fordney, member of the United States Congress for twenty-four years and co-author of the Fordney-McCumber tariff of 1921, died at his home here at 7:06 a.m. today. He was seventy-eight years old.

He had been in ill-health for months, but death was caused by an attack of erysipelas which developed last Sunday. He had been in virtual retirement since 1921, when he completed his twelfth consecutive term in Congress as representative of the eighth Michigan district.

In Congress he succeeded the late Frederick D. Ives, Democrat, and father of Michigan's present Governor, Wilbur M. Brucker, and built up a tradition of unwavering Republicanism in the eighth district, which he never broke until last year, when Representative Michael J. Hart, a Democrat, was elected.

Entering Congress after two years as city alderman at Saginaw, Mich., where he built up a fortune in the timber business, Joseph Warren Fordney, during his twenty-four years in the lower House at Washington, came to be known as one of the most ardent "protectionists" in the history of the United States.

A conservative Republican always, his name is remembered in connection with the Fordney-McCumber bill of 1921, which he drafted in collaboration with Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota. Fordney considered the bill, enacted shortly before his retirement from Congress, a monument to his legislative career.

As representative of the eighth Michigan district he was re-elected eleven consecutive times. In only one campaign was the result of his race in doubt.

A protective tariff on lumber was one of his planks in his first congressional campaign in 1898, and Fordney continued his battle for protection of United States industries to the end. He believed in a tariff high enough to suit every United States producer, and in unrestricted distribution of positions to those faithful to the party. The former he considered the keystone of his policy; the latter he believed vital to the perpetuity of the party.

Born in Blackfoot County, Indiana, November 5, 1853, Fordney lived on a farm with his parents until he was sixteen years old. When the family moved to Saginaw in 1869, the young man became interested in the timber business, the chief industry of the region.

After his marriage at twenty to Miss Katherine O'Hearn, he obtained the backing of a capitalist and eventually added lumber mills and yards to his holdings. He was considered wealthy when elected to Congress.

After serving on the powerful ways and means committee, Mr. Fordney believed he had reached the zenith of his career when he was elected chairman of that body. In that capacity he had much to do with the framing of laws during the first session of Congress under the administration of President Harding.

The soldiers' bonus bill was another measure favored by Fordney. Clinging tenaciously to the measure while it was drawing fire from other legislators, Mr. Fordney on several occasions repeated, "It is the only honorable thing to do."

CONVICTS PLEAD BEFORE JUSTICES; TELL OF CRIMES

First-year College Boy Describes Steps in His Downfall in Vancouver

F. A. Gloster, the Vancouver automobile trader sentenced to a term at the last session after being caught signing a cheque with the name of J. Williams, and Alexander Titmus, Vancouver house painter, pleaded yesterday twenty-three months for housebreaking, when, as he told the court, his own business had turned poor, will come before the Court of Appeal here next Thursday or Friday in their second attempt to have their sentences lightened or get new trials.

Gloster and Titmus were taken back to Oakalla yesterday evening with the five convicts who were ordered returned to serve out their full terms by the justices of the Court of Appeal after hearings here yesterday.

Inspector Robert Owens of the provincial police took personal command of the handling of the prisoners on their outing from Oakalla to the court here and return with the prisoners manacled in pairs, closely manacled and an enlarged corps of police officers, so that no temptation would be offered for any to try another jail break.

Prosecuting Attorney A. M. Johnson, K.C., is having prepared a transcript of the evidence in the Gloster case, while prison officials are arranging for evidence in how Gloster had been traced to the scene of the crime by the marks of the distinctive rubber heels on his shoes.

McLean said he was twenty-two years of age and came from Nova Scotia.

Chief Justice Macdonald ruled for dismissal of McLean's appeal, while Justice McPhillips thought there should be a new trial. Mr. Justice Martin quoted the opinion of the trial judge and "carried" McLean's explanations as a "cock and bull story."

ADMITS BAD RECORD
James B. Fraser and Cecil Carelli, who were arrested in the Westholme Hotel, Victoria, by detectives who found in the room next to them the photograph stolen in the robbery of a steel company's office in Vancouver, both claimed there was not enough to tie them up with the crime, and that the evidence against them was from bootleggers.

"I admit that I have got a record that is a disgrace to me or anyone else," Fraser said. "But the police framed me once before and they wanted to frame me twice."

He admitted his record in Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Cranbrook and Portland, Oregon, and that he had been deported from the United States and handed over to the Canadian Legion for treatment at Vancouver.

"A man in the penitentiary now states that he did this job along with a man who is now free and walking the streets of Vancouver," said Fraser. He attributed part of his bad luck in this case to an inexperienced lawyer who was defending him, it being the first trial, he said, this lawyer had taken part in.

Carelli also complained of inexperienced lawyers and told how the two of them, with another man, had come to Victoria last summer for the race.

The justices dismissed their appeals. With Mr. Justice McPhillips advising them to keep better company in future.

COLLEGE BOY CONVICT
Serving a three-year term in the penitentiary for robbery with violence at the Angelus Hotel in Vancouver, Arthur Taylor, the Edmonton first-year college boy and former boxing champion in his weight in that city, accused of being responsible for his conviction on the grounds that Wayne had picked him out of the police line-up in Vancouver.

"It is very unfortunate for anyone to get in that police line-up in Vancouver," said Taylor. "Wayne was the one who picked me out of the line-up and I was too stupid to break the safe. When I came to Vancouver first I had a scrap with him in Alexander Hall over insults to a former Edmonton girl. He said he would get me. Then when he saw me in the police line-up he picked me out. It was only on this man's evidence I was convicted. I was too ashamed to write to my people for money or help."

To questions from the Chief Justice, Taylor explained how he came to be in the police line-up. He had been taken in connection with another crime for which he is now serving one year in addition to the three for the Angelus Hotel job.

"I came to Vancouver for my health," Taylor said. "Doctors tried to treat me for trouble in my back. Then Dr. Durrant took my case in hand and I began to feel like a new man. But just then he said I would have to pay some money for treatments if he were to continue. But I had no money. I was really desperate and was going to be turned out by my landlady. I hadn't been eating regularly for some time and was undernourished. I was losing weight at the rate of one or two pounds a week. I was so hungry and miserable I was half crazy. I did not know what made us try to break into that other job, the Piggy Wiggy store, but when I was down the alley a police car was around the corner with its lights on me. I started to run, but was so weak I could not get far and they caught me. Then tools were found in the alley and the Cunningham store door broken open and they convicted me on that."

Mr. Justice McPhillips asked Taylor whether he was receiving proper treatment at Oakalla.

Taylor said he was getting no medical treatment at all.

The justice declared the prisoner must get treatment and said the prison doctor should consider his case.

Taylor explained that the doctor at Oakalla is a medical man and that when he told him he had been receiving treatment from Dr. Durrant, there were three children and they were in need of new clothing and food had been scarce.

"But a person is not permitted to steal every time he is in need of money," said the Chief Justice.

TOOK BULLETS FROM GUN
Mr. Justice Martin pointed out that at the time of the Angelus Hotel hold-up he was armed with a gun.

"I was nervous that there might be some accident and the gun need go off, so before we started on the job I extracted the bullets from the chamber of the gun," Betsworth replied.

Betsworth told how his wife and family had been living on a houseboat, which is all boarded up to keep out degenerates who lurk in the woods nearby and have been threatening his family.

"A man naturally has sympathy for a man whose wife and children are starving," said the Chief Justice, pointing out that the trial judge had apparently given consideration to this phase of the case in imposing the light sentence for armed hold-up, when a very long term might have been imposed.

The Chief Justice said that Betsworth might appeal to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, to lighten the sentence because of his family.

"The only hope for him lies in the prerogative of the Minister of Justice to extend mercy," said Mr. Justice Martin.

FAMILY SUFFERING
Charles Betsworth, who was given three years along with Taylor, for being the other man in the Angelus Hotel safe job, denied in answer to questions that he was the gunman. Taylor, questioned, declared that he had never had a gun in his possession. Betsworth appealed for a shortening of his sentence on compassionate grounds. He explained that he had been in Van-

FRIENDLY WARNINGS

TWO IMPORTANT EASTERN CANADIAN newspapers, The Montreal Star and The Ottawa Journal, both supporters of the Bennett government, have been discussing at length the forthcoming Imperial Conference. The Star does not disguise its fear of failure, and thinks that "if everybody is in a breathless hurry to get something down on paper and through a Parliament, and set up in a thousand customs houses, we are almost certain to make costly mistakes and go very far toward ensuring speedy failure." The Journal warns the Canadian public—by implication, the manufacturers and the government—that this country must be "prepared to make substantial reductions in its tariff on British manufactured goods and of really facilitating increased trade between different parts of the Commonwealth if the coming Imperial Economic Conference is to be a success and not a failure with the possibility of serious consequences."

In a general way the extracts we have quoted from these two influential newspapers reflect the opinion of those who hope it may be possible for the best brains in the empire, as the Star says, to construct an interlocking system of tariff preferences which will render "our diversified collection of Commonwealths largely self-supporting in the matter of trade."

The Montreal paper then goes on to say:

But this business of building up an inter-empire system of tariffs is a tremendous business—one that will cover the globe, require a sound knowledge of an immensity of detail, call for careful and expert examination of all sorts of trade trends and local conditions. No government to-day possesses anything like the knowledge necessary to the writing of such tariffs. Business men must be called in and their advice taken. Theorists must be relegated to the background, along with political self-seekers and frenzied phrase-makers. It must be perfectly obvious to any thoughtful person that the greatest danger confronting this splendid policy of Imperial co-operation would be a mistaken tariff system which would result in failure. There is faith enough in the Empire to try this policy, but even that faith feels very often that so daring a challenge to geography or—possibly—to economic law may not after all be practicable. Our people will be disappointed, but many of them will not be surprised if the scheme does not work. The present is the best opportunity we will ever have. And we should be doubly careful not to misuse it.

In The Ottawa Journal's warning that realities must be faced there is no back-down from its avowed belief in protectionism; but, unlike the attitude manifested in other protectionist quarters, it obviously is not deluding itself. It is merely taking a sane view of the facts of the situation—which must be faced. It is not a bit of use remaining blind to these facts until the delegates assemble at Ottawa. They must be taken into consideration while the various governments that will be represented at the conference are preparing their cases. With a clear insight into the attitude of certain Canadian manufacturers when any suggestion of lower tariffs crops up, our Ottawa contemporary goes to the heart of the matter in this way:

The majority of our own Canadian manufacturers undoubtedly look with suspicion upon all propositions of preferences to the rest of the Empire as regards manufactured goods. They want protection, they want plenty of it, and they don't love any idea which is likely to interfere with plenty of it. Some of them want the sort of protection which may enable a manufacturer to get along even if his business management be inefficient and his machinery inferior. That is the sort of protection which the rest of us, even if we are convinced protectionists, need to guard against. And it is a temper which will inevitably cause a lot of opposition to any serious proposition of preferential trade.

It would not be fair to Mr. Bennett to suggest that he has nothing better to offer to Britain than he offered at the abortive conference in 1930, repeated after the victory of the National Government, but it is much to the point that the newspapers which support him should give him plenty of warning against the very real difficulties with which the conference will have to deal.

It will be remembered that the MacDonald government was blamed by a large section of the British and dominion press for the failure of the 1930 gathering. It refused to accept the meaningless preference which Mr. Bennett offered in return for a tax on foodstuffs. In the meantime, however, Britain has gone into the tariff business—time will prove the wisdom or otherwise of her course—mainly with the object of providing herself with a weapon that will open markets which hitherto have been practically closed to British exports. Representatives of the National Government will come to Ottawa armed with that weapon and will unquestionably use it in an effort to obtain from this and the other dominions the "real and genuine quid pro quo" which Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas said recently he would require for such concessions as Britain might be prepared to give. Let the principle of give-and-take prevail, however, and something really practical may be accomplished.

A SLOW JOB

UNITED STATES DEMOCRATS—AND, of course, Republicans as well—want to lift the wet and dry issue clear of politics. Chairman John J. Raskob has expressed the view that the Democratic party's platform will contain a prohibition referendum plank. The New York Times thinks the referendum proposal is practical and reasonable, that it would save the face of the wets and dries, while "if it were endorsed by both party conventions, . . . it would take the question out of the presidential campaign."

Police magistrates often have warned motorists who have got into trouble through driving while under the influence of intoxicants that gasoline and liquor do not mix at all well. Many politicians in this and other countries have long since learned that a mixture of politics and liquor is highly inflammable material. So it can well be imagined that both Democrats and Republicans in the United States would be glad to clear their skirts of it and let the people decide the course Congress and the State Legislatures should take.

Changing the United States constitution, of which the Eighteenth Amendment is a part, is difficult on account of the inflexibility of the instrument. Two-thirds of both the House of Representatives and the Senate at Washington, and three-fourths of the State Legislatures must approve of any proposed amendment before it can become law.

It is plain, therefore, that any change in the present liquor laws of the United States must come very slowly—if at all.

IT SHOULD NOT FAIL

"We must not fail; we can not afford to fail at the forthcoming disarmament conference," Bishop Sherman, of Calgary, speaking to the Women's Canadian Club in Vancouver.

IF THE PEOPLE OF THE WORLD were to vote on disarmament, and have their verdict implemented by their governments, short strife soon would be made of the implements of destruction—the principal cause of war and all the misery that follows in its wake.

Unfortunately for the world, its people do not realize the power they really could exercise upon governments in this vital matter. Nor is it to be supposed that many governments for some time to come will explain how simple, after all, universal disarmament could be made. Old suspicions and hatreds die very slowly. Many of them are still manifesting themselves.

As Bishop Sherman says, "we can not afford to fail." If the conference should prove abortive, however, the cause of peace, let alone disarmament, will be dealt a serious blow.

FUR FARMS IN CANADA

THE DOMINION BUREAU OF STATISTICS in a recent report on fur farms states that there were in Canada 4,493 fox farms, 476 mink farms, 252 muskrat farms, 224 raccoon farms, and sixty-eight farms raising animals of various kinds, including skunk, marten, fisher, coyote, badger, rabbit and beaver.

The total value of the raw fur production of Canada during the season 1929-30 was $12,158,376, inclusive of the pelts of wild fur-bearing animals taken by trappers. Pelts of animals raised on fur farms constituted nineteen per cent of the year's total. The total capitalization of the fur farming industry in 1929 reached $30,356,034, an increase during the twelve months of $7,379,743. Quebec leads the provinces in the matter of capital invested, Ontario coming second, and Prince Edward Island third. Of the total capital investment in 1929, fox farms contributed eighty-five per cent. The number of silver foxes born on farms last year rose from 58,998 to 80,722, deaths amounted to 13,390, thus the average rate of mortality among young silver foxes was one to every eight born. The total number of fur-bearing animals killed for pelts during the year was 47,992, silver foxes numbering 36,088. Fur-bearing animals sold realized a total of $4,474,953, silver fox sales accounting for eighty-six per cent of the total.

The average price for silver fox pelts sold dropped from $106 to $82, but pelts of all descriptions sold realized $2,304,910, as compared with $2,389,026 in 1928, the number increasing from 30,836 to 38,311. The total revenue received by fur farms in 1929 was $6,779,863. Sales of live animals constituted sixty-six per cent of the total receipts. The value of fur-bearing animals on the farms at the end of the year was $21,303,035, silver foxes accounting for eighty-five per cent of the total and numbering 97,190.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BROADCASTING
The Toronto Mail and Empire

"If this abuse of privately owned stations is continued there will soon be an overwhelming public demand for the complete nationalization of broadcasting. The United States stations are, of course, the worst offenders, but they are killing their own prospects. Just so the greedy saloon keepers some years ago abused their license privileges until an outraged people arose and closed the bars forever."

BRITISH TARIFFS AND FOREIGN PROTESTS
The Saint John Telegraph-Journal

Of course the countries of Europe are up in arms and voicing loud protests against Great Britain's protective measures. For years these countries have been profiting by Great Britain's reluctance to let go of the basic principle of free trade. They have been taking advantage of her generosity to others in difficulties that seemed greater than her own. For years these countries have been excluding Great Britain's products and dumping their own. Now they are talking of reprisals. That is merely another way of suggesting a compromise.

CANADA AND PAN-AMERICAN UNION
The Boston Transcript

Had Canada become an absolutely separate nation no country would have been more warmly welcomed into the Union by the rest of its members. But the case of Canada is in this respect anomalous: her status as a Dominion implies a good deal besides the purely constitutional or political aspect of it: it renders all her interests more or less bound up with those of a system not only Pan-British but worldwide in range. Logically, she appears to aspire rather to a Pan-British than to a Pan-American scheme of national destiny. She is not identified with the common destiny and mission of this hemisphere so exclusively as are the several American Republics. She is not so "continental" in either the original or the present American sense of that word. That was why she did not choose to "accede" to the American Confederation of 1778, even though invited, and that may be why she seems still to stand aloof from the ideals of the Pan-American Union.

A THOUGHT

The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful.—Isaiah xxxii 5.
Liberality is the best way to gain affection; for we are assured of their friendship to whom we are obliged.—St. Evremont.

Loose Ends

Professor Clarke gets off an on the wrong foot—Mr. Jones makes a wondrous discovery—and they were mixed quart for quart.

By H. B. W.

PROFESSOR FREDERICK CLARKE, head of the department of education at McGill University, has lately been indulging in the jolly sport of analysing the depression which is about as profitable as cross word puzzles and quite as harmless. He says that the world crisis is moral and not financial, that we must develop a new morality, a new set of ethics before we can develop a satisfactory set of economics. And to do this he says we must first develop a new system of education. We must train the young into a way of decent and unselfish living which will make humanity safe for the world.

THAT IS PROBABLY true, but there is one fatal flaw in the professor's programme. We can't leave the job to the young. That has been our trouble all along; we have pumped moral theories and sound wisdom into the young at enormous cost and in the most systematic fashion and expected them to come out of school moral and wise. But we haven't given the young credit for enough intelligence. We have underestimated their power of observation. We haven't yet realized that at the same time when we are filling them full of morality and wisdom they are watching us and observing that we have neither. And instead of following our theories they have followed our example.

SO LONG AS the generation ahead shows no wisdom and no morality in the ordinary affairs of life, it will be quite useless to run philosophy and ethics down the young throat. The young are going to accept the world as they find it, not as some professor tells them it ought to be. Until we are ready ourselves to give them a lead, we need expect no improvement. And the spectacle which the young mind observes as it enters the world just now, is sufficient to overwhelm in a day all the training accumulated so painfully in school in fifteen years. There is no use leaving it to the next generation with a lot of scientific, professional excuses for ourselves. We have got to start the job ourselves.

BY LONG EXPERIENCE I am hard-ened to anything which may emanate from the other side of James Bay. Nothing can surprise me—nothing distress, I can endure it if taxes are increased. Even the shock would not kill me if they were reduced. Thus it is no surprise to me, as it will be to the public, that a brand new theory of taxation, an entirely unique invention in arithmetic, has lately been evolved over there, a discovery, indeed, which seems not only to upset all the old laws of mathematics, but the Einstein theory and all the field equations as well. I refer, of course, to Finance Minister Jones's discovery of a virgin, unexploited field of taxation. He is going to tax you on what you never owned.

YES, ACCORDING TO a learned ruling handed down this week, if you had a salary of $5,000 last year (which is most unlikely, I should say), you received $4,950 from your employer and $50 went to the government in the special 1 per cent revenue tax. But you will pay ordinary income tax this year not on the $4,950 which you received, but on the full $5,000. Thus you are paying ordinary income tax on $50 which you never saw and never owned. You are paying, indeed, not on what you got, but what you ought to have got.

THIS, I SAY, is unique and quite sublime. It is not the mere calculation of a finance minister, but the inspiration of a poet, and its possibilities are almost without end. I mean, if once you establish the useful principle of taxing a man on what he didn't get, but ought to have got, then you have a limitless field of revenue. For example, it is beyond dispute that I ought to have got $100,000 last year and, therefore, should be taxed on it. By this same striking logic, I should certainly be taxed for the improvement of our road by Councillor Wrigglesworth because, even if it wasn't improved, it should have been. As everybody is sure to assert that he deserves a large income last year, Mr. Jones's revenues will be enormous. Cabinet ministers, for instance, undoubtedly deserve $10,000 or so a month in these times, and I have no hesitation in recommending that they be taxed on that amount, though if they were taxed according to the value attached to them by low fellows like George Pudgebury, they wouldn't pay anything.

MR. JONES is fond of quoting the Greek poets on his Christmas cards. Next Christmas he might quote that modern master who sang so sweetly:

"Finance once distressed me a lot," said Jones, "but in future I'm not going to worry at all. If my revenues fall, I'll collect what the public ain't got."

A NUMBER OF people have stopped me on the street, written me letters, telephoned and insulted me concerning certain aspects of George Pudgebury's New Year party. I had thought the matter closed when the guests began to recover, but the public still insists on pestering me about the mixture of loganberry wine and Scotch, quart for quart. "This," said my friend Buck, who is an accepted authority, "is just impossible, that's all. Whisky and loganberry wine simply won't mix. They can't. They'd blow up. They'd explode. They'd kill you." A number of other authorities agreed with him. There seemed to be such a deep scientific interest in the matter that I decided to take it up with Mr. Pudgebury himself and find out whether he really did mix them quart for quart. As I had suspected from the look on Mr. Pudgebury's face the morning after the party, I found that the feat which science had pronounced impossible, had indeed been performed. They had been mixed quart for quart. "Of course, I put loganberry with the whisky," said Mr. Pudgebury. "I'm a temperate man and so are my friends. We like something mild. We never drink the whisky without diluting it. I said I thought his logic was unanswerable and I hope all the doubters are satisfied now."

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
JANUARY 8, 1907

From The Times Files
Weather Forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Fresh northerly and easterly winds, continued fair and cold.

The City Council had a very short session last evening, completing the business for the night in less than three-quarters of an hour. There were present besides His Worship, Aldermen Vincent, Fullerton, Hall, Fell, Stewart and Goodacre.

The quarterly general meeting of the Victoria Board of Trade was held yesterday evening in the Victoria Board of Trade hall.

The Commercial Cable Company's repair steamship Restorer is about due to arrive in Victoria, reason unknown, but probably for an overhaul. This steamer makes her headquarters at Honolulu, and it was she which hauled the Manchuria off the reef, setting up a claim for some $300,000 salvage.

The steamer Quadra left for the West Coast to fulfil her patrol duty there. As previously announced in The Times, the Marine and Fisheries Department has thought it advisable to send this vessel up the West Coast for the purpose of affording relief to shipwrecked mariners.

Other People's Views

A CONUNDRUM

To the Editor:—Will you allow me to ask for a solution to a puzzle through your valuable paper? Why should we be taxed one per cent on income returns sent in for 1930, when the decree did not come into effect until March 1931? We are expected to be taxed on the returns we send in on 1931 income, but it seems too bad to have to pay it on our returns for fifteen months before the one per cent tax was levied. Can someone explain it to me please?
ONE OF THE MANY.

SALVATION

To the Editor:—As there may be a little misunderstanding about the Holy Father's encyclical in your paper, will you allow me a few lines to explain? I have been a Christian and a student of the Scripture for forty-two years. I rather from the Book that three parties had to do with the fall of man, namely, Adam, Eve and the Devil, the fallen angel. Likewise three parties had to do with man's redemption, namely, Christ, His Mother, and the Angel Gabriel. Christ was superior to Adam, the Blessed Virgin was superior to Eve, and the Angel Gabriel was superior to the fallen angel, the Devil. Those who wish to know more about this should read Genesis III, Luke I and Romans V.

A STUDENT OF THE BOOK.

TELEPHONE RATES

To the Editor:—During these times of depression would it not be appropriate for the B.C. Telephone Company to lower their monthly rate for the average household, in line with the lowering of all other commodities? The B.C. Electric Railway Company saw fit to lower their rates for light, which is quite a saving to the average working-man's household. Everything is cheaper and has been lowered during the last year or so, even to wages, so it is not expecting too much from the telephone company to ask for a reduction. That 20 cents a month they added some few years ago could very well be taken off again now, and it would be quite a help to the working-class household, where every cent counts during these trying times.

H. B. BROWNING.

Washington Avenue, January 6, 1932.

CLOSE BEER HALLS

To the Editor:—You doubtless noticed the news dispatch from Calgary January 4 to the effect that the Unemployed Married Men's Association there are urging the closing of all beer halls and government liquor stores. When one figures that the price of a bottle of beer will buy five loaves of bread and the price of a bottle of whisky is about the same as that of a hundred loaves, one can appreciate the force of such a move. Having regard to the present general distress, is this not a matter that we might well consider in British Columbia as a patriotic self-sacrificing proposition? Its moral effect would be stimulating, while the diversion of funds to productive purposes must be helpful. I suggest emphatically that this be considered.

Luxton Women's Institute Ends Year Of Activity

Rebuilding of Luxton Hall Formed Chief Objective, Reports Show
Mrs. D. Welch Re-elected President at Annual Meeting Yesterday Evening
The annual meeting of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute was held yesterday evening at Luxton Hall. Mrs. D. Welch was re-elected president for a fourth term. The other officers elected were: Mrs. L. Hutchinson, secretary; and Mesdames H. Baxter, W. Caton and M. A. Morrow as directors.
CONCENTRATED ON HALL FUND
The secretary's report for the past year showed considerable activity and pointed out the united efforts of all members were devoted to raising funds by card parties, silver tea and drawings for donated articles, to help with the rebuilding of Luxton Hall. Mrs. D. Welch was elected president for a fourth term. The other officers elected were: Mrs. L. Hutchinson, secretary; and Mesdames H. Baxter, W. Caton and M. A. Morrow as directors.

In July a successful flower show and sale of work was held by the members, who also sponsored the Halloween entertainment in the form of a bonfire party. An enjoyable summer picnic was held through the courtesy of a member, Mrs. H. Baxter, at her home. Flowers and fruit were distributed to sick members, and the contents of the members' birthday box provided some comforts for sick members. A donation of $2 was made to the fund for the extension of home crafts in institute work. The per capita fee to the island district board was paid, also a donation of $1.50 for the tablet to be erected at the Solarium.
POTATO JUDGING
The members sponsored a potato judging contest for the pupils of the local school, purchasing certified seed potatoes. A gratifying report from one contestant was to the effect that ninety pounds of potatoes had been produced from the four pounds sown. A very instructive and interesting demonstration of group system in potato teaching by Mrs. H. Simpson and pupils was arranged by the institute. All pupils of the local schools invited to the demonstration. The activities of the bridge club, which is composed of institute members and their friends, were outlined by the members. Refreshments were served from the proceeds, and a donation made to the Athletic Club.

Following the report of the year's work the secretary presented the Otha Scott financial statement forwarded by the treasurer, Mrs. L. Hutchinson. The report from the Travelers' Aid of the Y.W.C.A. was also read. The meeting decided to contribute towards the cup to be presented for the girls' basketball league. Refreshments were served by Mrs. H. Baxter.

Little Japanese Entertain W.M.S. At Metropolitan

An exceptionally well-arranged programme delighted the audience which attended the Women's Missionary Society's concert held in the Metropolitan Church Schoolroom. The whole entertainment, given by some fifty Japanese children from the Japanese Training Mission Sunday School, embracing choruses, songs, drills and pageants, was admirably conducted and the ability with which these young performers carried out their parts reflected great credit on Miss Martin, matron and teacher of the mission, and her staff.
Rev. E. F. Church, acting as chairman, opened with a short prayer and brief address, in which he congratulated the W.M.S. on being successful in getting these young Japanese boys and girls to bring about a better understanding of the W.M.S. work. He also made the gratifying announcement that the society had reached its financial objective for this year. The Japanese pastor, Rev. T. Ogura, was introduced and sang in Japanese the hymn, "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters," and Mr. Church thanked him for his happy thought which had prompted him to choose this inspirational hymn, which had been sung by the children of two countries closer together in this work.
The president, Mrs. Cliff, on behalf of the members of the society, thanked all the young artists and their teachers for the splendid entertainment. She also thanked all members for their splendid support and generosity which had helped to make possible the W.M.S. objective.
Just before closing the concert, Mr. Church introduced a guest from Saskatchewan, Mrs. Bellamy of Moose Jaw, who is loved in the prairie cities as the mother of the W.M.S. Auxiliary, having organized many societies in the prairie towns, and her son who, although crippled, has been a great help to help this work that in Japan there is an institution called after him, "The Herby Bellamy Institution."
The accompanist for the evening was Miss Mossop, the evangelistic worker of the school, and Miss Makabashi, a promising young Japanese worker.

Wife of Dreyfus Advocate Was Nova Scotia Girl

Madame Labori Was Former Wife of De Pachmann, Great Pianist
Has Sister Still Living in Saint John and Other Relatives in East
In view of the local showing of the British film, "The Dreyfus Trial," it is interesting to note that Madame Labori, wife of the famous lawyer Maitre Serdinand Labori, who won the trial for treason in the early 90's, was formerly Miss Madeline O'Keefe, daughter of Mrs. William O'Keefe, of Kentville, Nova Scotia.
Maitre Labori, who took up the fight for Capt. Dreyfus, had met Miss O'Keefe, the former Mrs. DePachmann, who had divorced DePachmann, one of the world's greatest pianists, many years previous. She was at that time studying music at Paris.
A sister of Madame Labori is Mrs. William Ryan of St. John. Her other sister, Mrs. DePachmann, who married the late Dr. Percy Woodworth, well-known Annapolis Valley physician, died a few years ago. A niece of Madame Labori, Miss Madeline Woodworth, of Kentville, lived for several years in Paris with her aunt, and is now residing in Montreal, where she is secretary of the women's branch of the Maritime Province Club.

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery Quick Without Cutting or Salves
Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.
That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.
Your itching, bleeding or protruding piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. HEM-ROID does this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead pile tissue.
Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every file sufferer to try HEM-ROID with the guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles no matter how stubborn the case? ought her in an embrace which left her of them serious-faced.

"Good-bye," he said, "should we tell your mother?"

"You mean—about us?"

He nodded.

The girl considered.

"I don't think so," she said doubtfully. "Mother's upset anyhow about me leaving. I suppose it's because she's been working hard. I'm really worried about her, Barney. Promise me while I'm away you'll come to see her often and let me know just how she looks. Will you?"

"Sure I will."

There was silence. The moment of parting was a pause—parting for a long while.

"Barney, you'll come to the station to see me, won't you?"

year—at least for a time—she's decided to stay in the city."

Celia's misgivings increased. She had no prospect of acquiring a grandmother. Grandmothers as she pictured them, should be old ladies dressed in lavender with little caps of lace on their heads and spectacles on their noses. She thought of such a grandmother sitting in a rocking chair and knitting.

"Of course she'll see that you meet young people," she said, as though he had read the girl's thoughts.

There was a pause and the man returned to his newspaper. Celia glanced timidly about the car. She would not have dared guess that it was her first trim in a parlor car. If any other travelers, curiously,

One of the most important announcements in the history of broadcasting in connection with radio programming is to be made personally by Paul Whiteman on the All-star Air Show over an NBC-KOMO network at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening, according to reports. The nature of the announcement is not known. During the broadcast Whiteman, at the controls, will give plump Marie Dressler, his favorite comedienne, the go-ahead to sing a duet with Graham McNamee who describes the New York Radio Show, and Everett Marshall, noted operatic baritone and Jeanette MacDonald, singing film star, will give vocal selections.

To the Great Relief of Millions of Girls Man's Ideal in Women Has Returned to Normal — He Has Learned That What He Wants Is Not a Poor Understudy of Himself, but His Exact Opposite

IT APPEARS that men are going feminine in their tastes in women and that the so-called "modern girl" is out of style and the old-fashioned girl is the latest vogue.

A survey has recently been made of the students of one of our largest universities in order to find out what was their ideal girl and fluffy ruffles won out by long odds. Eighty per cent of the men questioned declared that girls who smoke and drink and swear and order the use of rouge and lipstick made no hit with them. They did not care whether Jane was blonde or brunette or red-headed, but they did want her sweet and feminine.

This is good news, but there is nothing surprising about it. It is good news for the general public, for it indicates that in a world that is already too full of ugliness we will not have our eyes further affronted by having to contemplate so often the hideous and grotesque spectacle of girls in pants. And is good news for the girls themselves because it will permit them to quit smoking cigarettes that they loathe and make faces over and to lay off bootleg liquor that pays them, and to ease up on the strain of trying to be tough, and it will let them follow their natural instincts to be ladies.

To millions of girls the announcement that they can say "fudge" instead of "damn," and that they will not have either to listen to or tell dirty stories, or kiss every pimply youth who comes along, or get lit up at every party in order to have dates, will come like a moratorium on all their troubles.

For women always are, or at least they try to be, what men want them to be, or what they think men want them to be, and nobody knows the sufferings they go through in cutting themselves over according to the masculine pattern of the moment.

Many a girl has shed tears when she put off the soft chiffons in which she looked so pretty and dainty and put on the breeches in which she looked so ugly and so sloppy. Many a girl has had to practice swear words by the hour in the privacy of her own room to try to make them sound a little convincing and spontaneous.

Many a girl has writhed in disgust at being pawed over by every Tom, Dick and Harry, but she thought she had to endure it all because men preferred hoodlums. And now to find out that they have swung back to nice girls makes her want to get up and sing "Glory Hallelujah." Now she can be herself.

There is nothing strange, however, in this swing of men's fancy back to the feminine in women. It was the reaction that was bound to occur because the attraction between the sexes is based on the difference between them and not on their similarity, and the more women copy-catted men the less appeal they made to them and the less men liked them.

The girl who tried to make an imitation man of herself was not a success as a man and she was a rank failure as a woman, lacking the charm of both. When she put on a man's clothes she did not look like a man, she only became a figure of fun. And when she tried to talk and act like a man she became even more of a biological freak.

Besides, what man wants in a woman is not a poor understudy of himself, but something that is his exact opposite and that is why, deep down in his heart, the feminine woman will always be his ideal. He may amuse himself for a while with the girl who "looks like the little brother," but he may teach a girl to drink and smoke and swear, and make her doing these things the price of his kissing her out and showing her a good time. He may ridicule purity and modesty and maidenly reserve until he makes her believe that men despise those qualities in girls.

But is not the tough girl who is a man's ideal. No matter what the man is himself, the things that he honors in women are just the old-fashioned virtues, the virtues that his mother and his grandmother had, the virtues of the courteous women who have kept their skirts clean and their mouths sweet and their arms tender and their breast a pillow for all the sorrows of humanity to weep themselves out on.

A man wants a woman to be dressed like a woman in laces and chiffons and soft, pretty colors. He wants her to be gentle and mercurial in her opinions, not hard-boiled. He wants her to be refined in her speech, not to curse and swear like a longshoreman. He does not want a drunkard for the mother of his children, nor a feminine philosopher whom he will have to watch. He wants one in whose goodness he can trust absolutely.

It is the eternal feminine that makes the eternal appeal to men. It is the feminine type men marry. And you are going to hear more wedding bells now that girls are beginning to dress like women and act like women and be like grandmas instead of imitating the bad boy next door.

Match Heads and Match Sticks

A memory comes back from the time I was five years old. One of my elder brothers asked me:

"Go in the kitchen and you will find a bogey-man."

Scene in match factory.

The kitchen was dark, but I was not afraid of darkness, and I did not believe there was such a thing as a "bogey-man." In the kitchen I saw glowing fingers moving around. They belonged to one of my brothers, not to a bogey-man.

My father learned of the incident and warned my brothers that they must never again try to frighten me. It is, indeed, a mistake to frighten a small child; but in that case I believe I was more amused than fearful. My brother had made his fingers glow by rubbing them against "phosphorus" matches, the heads of which he had moistened.

In former times, white phosphorus and yellow phosphorus were widely used for the heads of matches, but it was found that workers in match factories were injured by fumes from the phosphorus. Many died from the disease known as "phossy jaw." Laws have been made in civilized countries to prevent the use of such phosphorus. Red phosphorus, which is not harmful, is now employed for the purpose, along with other substances.

It is hard to realize that the match is a modern invention. Only 100 years ago, it was the common custom to make fire by striking flint against steel. Sparks from the flint were made to land on cotton or linen cloth. When fire began to eat its way slowly through the cloth, a person would blow on it in an effort to cause flame and ignite shavings. It was a task to start a fire in those times!

Nowadays we just "strike a match," and, along comes the fire. Most match sticks are made from the wood of pine or aspen trees.

A modern match-making machine will cut and slice the sticks, and apply the heads, for 12,000,000 safety matches in the course of a single day. Safety matches (the kind which must be struck on the box) are in my opinion the best kind. An ambitious mouse, even if he gets such matches all night, will not set your house afire.

(A good place for this story might be the "Invention" section of your telephone book.)

TRY TO SMOKE OUT REBELS

La Paz, Argentina, Dec. 8.—Police set fire yesterday to an island forest in an effort to burn out the three Kennedy Brothers, who led a brief uprising Sunday.

The flames were started on the small island of La Redonda in the Parana River, 300 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, to destroy or drive out the brothers, Mario, Eduardo and Paul and their small band of rebellious henchmen, who were thought to have taken refuge there.

The fire was making little headway, however. There was considerable doubt the rebels still were on the island.

OAK BAY BUNGALOW

This is a new stucco bungalow, built one year, of excellent construction and very beautiful plan. It is in a quiet location in Oak Bay and quite handy to the new HIGH SCHOOL. There is a full basement with excellent heating plant and garage room for two cars. The lot is very large and has a high protein ratio is of value. Apparently the fat in the body can be held in reserve and drawn on at will. The diet is not restricted. The excess fats in the diet of the tuberculous.

It has not been established that the calcium in the blood in tuberculous is lower than ordinarily; excess calcium in the food does not seem to aid the calcification of the tubercle.

Neither has it been certainly demonstrated that any large increase over the usual amount of vitamins is advisable, even for persons in good health. If it can be shown that a definite lack of vitamins exists, that lack should be supplied. But only rarely in the Canadian population does any adult seem to suffer from a real vitamin deficiency. The experiments with vitamin feeding may be carried out over long periods of time, since it does not seem that harm can result from a relative excess of vitamins.

The two diets most talked about at the present time are the Gerson diet and the Hermanns diet. The Gerson diet, which is a low protein diet, is not very different from the other. Both of them eliminate sodium chloride or common salt, substituting a calcium-rich salt; both restrict meats greatly and water greatly; both are rich in fat and protein but low in carbohydrates both.

U.S. MOVE N JAPAN TARY, SAYS MURRAY

British Political Figure and Scholar Discusses Nine-power Treaty Invocation

London, Jan. 8.—Professor Gilbert Murray, chairman of the League of Nations Union, expressed regret yesterday evening that the United States had delayed so long in invoking the Nine-power Treaty in Japan's conflict with China.

Mr. Murray always considered the action of Japan was not consistent with the Nine-power Treaty, he said, "and I am only sorry the United States did not call the attention of Japan to the point at the beginning when it could have been done with less friction."

Viscount Cecil, British delegate to the League of Nations, when informed of the United States action, expressed himself to a remark that "it seems to be a matter of considerable importance."

Reuter's (British) news agency, in a message to newspapers in connection with the Washington dispatches, said the decision of the United States to invoke the treaty marks the greatest development in the history of the League of Nations.

It linked the Washington decision with the recent assault by British troops at Mukden on General B. Chamberlain, United States consul at Harbin.

"Although the Japanese government has tendered its regrets in Washington and although Mr. Stimson has announced the apology has been accepted," the Reuter agency said, "American public opinion has been far more satisfied. We now see the first moves of the American reaction."

Big Field For Seeds Growers Imports Show

Nearly 1,000,000 pounds of field and garden seeds imported by Canada from the United States in the five months from July to November last year, according to the markets branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

Field seeds comprised the bulk of the imports, the total of 916,025 pounds, including 874,471 pounds of wheat, the bulk of which was grown extensively in Central British Columbia, and the extent of the importation last fall indicates the potential home market, home-grown timothy enjoying a protective tariff of two cents a pound.

Garden seeds aggregating 63,016 pounds were imported in the five months. The following varieties: Beans, carrots, onion seed imports were second, totaling 13,134 pounds, and tomato seed third place with 6,607 pounds. The highest type are grown in British Columbia, and enjoy a tariff protection of twenty-five cents a pound. The duty on carrot seed is ten cents a pound, and the output from British Columbia seed farms is steadily increasing.

Everton, who ran amok through the best clubs in the country at the beginning of the season, have unfortunately, though playing at home with a few exceptions, been unable to win.

McLarnin Expects World Title Bout Next Month

Vancouver Fighter To Meet Brouillard In Fight At Boston

Slugging welterweight in Victoria for short visit before leaving for East; Championship Bout at Hub City Would Draw Tremendous Crowd, Jimmy States; Appears in First-class Condition; Boxing Critics Rate McLarnin Above Brouillard

Jimmy McLarnin, smiling Vancouver welterweight, and one of the most popular fighters in the fight line today, may soon be wearing the world welterweight championship in town to-day for a short visit McLarnin announced that he hoped to get a title bout with Lou Brouillard, holder of the world welterweight championship, in Boston next month. Jimmy stated plans had been completed for the title shot and he expected to leave for the Hub City within a short time.

HELEN MOODY REGAINS HER TOP POSITION

Leading Woman Tennis Player Restored to Number One Standing in U.S.

Ellsworth Vines, U.S. Champ, Heads Men; George M. Lott Is Second

New York, Jan. 8. — Mrs. Helen Moody, United States women's tennis champion yesterday was restored to her number one position in the rankings for 1932 released by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Ellsworth Vines, United States men's champion, was ranked number one in the men's list. Mrs. Moody, who did not defend her title in 1930, was not ranked last year because of "insufficient data." Second to Vines in the men's list was George M. Lott Jr. of Chicago, runner-up to Vines in the national championship.

Following Lott in order were: Frank Shields, New York; John Van Ryn of Philadelphia; John Hope Doeg of New York; Clifford Sutter of New Orleans; Sidney Wood Jr. of New York; Keith Cleghill of Santa Barbara, Cal.; Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, and Brouillard will engage in an over-weight match with Jackie Fields this month, and providing nothing serious results from this bout Brouillard will agree to meet him in a championship match, Jimmy said. Boston is considered Brouillard's home town and a title bout there would draw a tremendous crowd, Jimmy remarked.

McLarnin has been knocking at the door of the welterweight championship for the last couple of years, and many rate him uncrowned king of the division. In a recent rating of welterweights issued in New York and made up by boxing critics McLarnin was rated above Brouillard, even although the latter holds the title. This did considerable to lower Brouillard's standing McLarnin stated, and would help him, McLarnin, to secure a championship go.

McLarnin looks in first-class condition, and the large number of local fans who met him today were struck by the absence of scars on his face. He looks anything but a fighter, and his manner is of the quietest type. Jimmy's latest acquisition is a neat little moustache. When a remark was passed about his disguise Jimmy laughingly remarked: "It was a secret for about two months."

COAST HOOP CHAMPS WIN DECISIVELY

Varsity Basketball Defeat Saskatchewan Quintette By 46 to 25 Count

Campbell and Osborne Star For U.B.C. With Twenty-nine Points Between Them

Saskatoon, Sask., Jan. 8. — Out-playing their opponents in every department of the game, the University of British Columbia chalked up its first victory in the western Canada inter-collegiate basketball series when it defeated the University of Saskatchewan five 46 to 25, yesterday evening before one of the largest basketball crowds in the history of the city.

The coast quintette sailed through to an easy 29 to 4 lead in the first half and in the second eased up enough to let Saskatchewan outscore them to the extent of 21 to 17. While the losers fought hard throughout the game, they were unable to consistently break up the B.C. system of attack or to work close enough under the basket to score frequently. The green and white used two complete line-ups, but even then they could not down the fast stepping visitors, who were playing with only the required five men.

CAMPBELL HIGH SCORER
Campbell was the leading scorer for the Coast team with fifteen points, with Osborne next in line for the honours with fourteen. Under the B.C. system, the two guards, McIntyre, who was the centre of all their plays, and Osborne, who seemed to be all over the floor, accounted for twenty points between them.
Murray Matheson was the high scorer for the home club with eight points. Purdy was next with four. On the whole, Saskatchewan was erratic on long shots, and even when they did manage to get under the basket, they could not find the target.
The teams and individual scorers follow:
British Columbia—Wright 5, Campbell 15, Nicholson 8, McIntyre 6, Osborne 14, total 46.
Saskatchewan—Kirkdale 2, Staveley, Urquhart 2, Matheson 8, Shaw 2, Purdy 4, Edwards 1, Maguire 3, Wynne, Logan, Graham, McAdam 3, total 25.
Referee: J. R. McKay and James Pullen.

Abe Kaplan Fined $50 For Taking a Swing at Referee

Portland, Jan. 8. — The Portland Boxing Commission yesterday slapped a $50 fine on Abe Kaplan, heavyweight wrestler, just to show him that poking a referee is frowned upon by the board.

Meanwhile Lewis fell, with Kaplan on top. He thought he should have the referee's attention, so he picked him up and started to punch him, however, and by the time he had view the situation Lewis had Kaplan pinned to the mat. Harrington raised Lewis's hand and Kaplan swung on Harrington.

Los Angeles, Jan. 8. — Long-hitting Fred Morrison, Culver City, Calif., Southern California Open champion, led 233 professionals and amateur golfers through the qualifying round of ability tests today for the Los Angeles $7,500 open, shooting 73-68-141, two under par.

Ninety-seven of the starters won the right to continue Saturday with an exempt list of thirty-five in the seventh annual open over the Hillcrest Country Club course on Saturday.

The qualifying play, over half a dozen courses, saw all the prominent entries gain admission to the championship, with most of the scores low due to fast greens and on several of the layouts dog during the early morning rounds.

Trailing Morrison by two strokes was Gale Stockton, University of Southern California amateur from San Bernardino, who shot a 71-72-143.

Dick Metz, Waco, Texas professional, drew up in third place with 78-68-146, followed by Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles, formerly of Waco, with 70-75-145, and Eric Seavall, Hollywood, with 72-73-145.

Winkardine, Ont., Jan. 8. — The waters of Lake Huron at present are warmer than on many occasions during the summer. Take it from Bert Higgins of this town. With his wife, Higgins took a plunge in the lake yesterday. He said he enjoyed the dip.

Wheat Prices Sag Sympathy With Liverpool Market

Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—In sympathy with weaker wheat quotations at Liverpool wheat prices sagged on the grain exchange to-day. Price at the close were 1/2 cent lower than Thursday's finish. May closed at 63 1/2, while July finished at 64.

Support was very indifferent and the market throughout was a dull affair.

Export interest was very disappointing. The advice of the government was to the effect that very little new business

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG	CHICAGO
(By Logan & Bryan)	(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—Wheat: The market continued a dull, drab affair with nothing of feature going on, with volume of business probably smaller than it has been for several days past. Prices during the first half-hour declined one cent from the close of Thursday and there they remained most of the day.	Chicago, Jan. 8.—Wheat: Setback features the trade in wheat to-day. It was due largely to weak cable and more bearish news regarding Australian wheat. Shipments from the latter country were 3,462,000 bushels, the latter Liverpool cables said there was selling supposed to be both for Argentine and Australian account. The bulk of the Australian wheat went to Europe.
Prices were into the daily bid for about 1/2, which probably checked further declines, as a little support came in and offerings were almost nil on the extreme peak. The decline at the start was due to local liquidation based on the weakness in Liverpool and an absence of export business, as practically nothing was worked out of this market overnight.	Export business was quiet, but there was some inquiry for hard winters at the Gulf and premiums were a trifle firmer. No. 1 hard winter being 1 1/2 over Chicago May.
Russell's reported that the foreign interest overnight was disappointing, with only a small scattered business in Manitoba out of Vancouver. Cable advice indicated the Argentine and Australia have been fair sellers. Argentine shipments this week are rather smaller than expected, but Australia shipped 4,889,000 bushels, the greater part going to England.	Cash demand for domestic account good with sales about 120,000, following sales of 189,000 yesterday. Weather conditions were little changed, temperatures being mild and rank, growing making the crop susceptible to serious damage in Ohio valley would low temperatures develop. Around 57 cents for May there was fair support. Look for some to change. Favor buying side on setbacks.
Country marketings in the west on Thursday were 484,000 bushels, as against 283,000 bushels a year ago.	Corn trade was rather narrow, with prices lower in sympathy with wheat. Shipping demand was slow. Sales 26,000 bushels and country bookings larger at 88,000. Receipts 91 cars. Primary arrivals 261,000, against 544,000 a year ago. Cash demand for domestic account good with sales about 120,000, following sales of 189,000 yesterday. Weather conditions were little changed, temperatures being mild and rank, growing making the crop susceptible to serious damage in Ohio valley would low temperatures develop. Around 57 cents for May there was fair support. Look for some to change. Favor buying side on setbacks.
Winnipeg close unchanged based on Winnipeg.	Wheat—Price worked lower on wheat weakness the main influence some export inquiry reported. Receipts nil. Stocks moderate. With a normal home consumption supplies will be limited by the end of the year.

CRUISE LEADER PASSES WHILE TOURING EGYPT

Jack Weldon Parkins, well-known Canadian Hotel Man, on Ss. Empress of Britain

Montreal, Jan. 8.—Word was received at headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway to-day of the death in Cairo, Egypt, yesterday, of Jack Weldon Parkins, well-known Canadian hotel manager, who was acting as one of the assistant directors on the world cruise of the liner Empress of Britain. Mr. Parkins left the ship at Suez and while in Egypt contracted pneumonia, which resulted in his death.

He was born in Montreal on September 22, 1880, and was well known throughout Canada as a hotelman. He joined the service of the Canadian Pacific on June 1, 1924, as assistant manager of the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec, and in the same year served as assistant manager at the Algonquin Hotel, at St. Andrews, N.B., and also as special representative in the hotel department of the company in Montreal.

In 1925 he went to the Vancouver Hotel, at Vancouver, as assistant manager for a six-month term, and later returned to Montreal to take up his former position. From 1926 until 1931 he managed the Algonquin Hotel, during the summer months and made Montreal his headquarters in the winter. He was married in 1928 to Mrs. Fred Anderson, and a daughter, Beverly Carrington, both of whom are at present in Miami, and one son.

TRAVEL ACROSS CANADA SHOULD PROVE POPULAR

Conventions Will Draw People Across Dominion, Say C.N.R. Officials

Canada will undoubtedly benefit greatly during the coming summer from the many large conventions and the Olympic Games to be held on the Pacific Coast, in the opinion of Robert Creelman, traffic manager for the western region of the Canadian National Railways, who arrived in Victoria this morning with a party of officials, on one of his periodic inspection trips of the Pacific Coast.

Also in the party are George A. McNicholl, general passenger agent at Vancouver; B. Latta, superintendent of the express department at Edmonton; and C. A. Cunningham, general superintendent of the express department.

Unaccounted millions of small fish, declared by fishermen of the West Coast of Vancouver Island to be anchovies, are appearing there as they have done in irregular but to lesser extent for many years. The herring run on the West Coast is light, and some fishermen say these anchovies are really young herring.

On the other hand the Dominion Fisheries Department is inclined to believe the visitors are true anchovies, and that the herring are in the West Coast waters in usual numbers, but are not "schooling" this year, as in past years. In their place, however, are the anchovies.

While the anchovy is a delectable and popular food fish everywhere it is not regularly abundant for commercial purposes, anywhere excepting in the Mediterranean Sea and off the coast of Holland. Many people who think they are eating anchovies are devouring nothing more or less than the plebian sprat, according to fish authorities.

The true anchovy is described as a fish of the herring family, easily distinguished by its deeply cleft mouth, the angle of the gape being behind the eyes. It resembles a sprat—having forked tail and single dorsal fin, but its body is round and slender, with a maximum length of 8.5 inches. Great quantities of sprats, the reports state, are caught and preserved, properly spiced, and are sold on world markets as "Norway anchovies," but they are only sprats.

ment for the western district, with headquarters at Winnipeg. They came over from Vancouver this morning and are registered at Empress Hotel. To-day they are conferring with C. F. Earle, Victoria passenger representative, and Harvey Boale, local manager of the express department.

Mr. Creelman and Mr. McNicholl are both optimistic regarding travel conditions in Canada during the summer of 1932. The Rotary convention in Seattle in June and the Shrine convention in San Francisco the same month will bring close to 25,000 people to the Pacific Coast.

"Victoria will get a large share of this traffic," Mr. Creelman said, "as people coming across Canada to these conventions will pass through this city on their way to Seattle. Many people in the east who plan to attend these conventions will travel, at least one way, across Canada."

Mr. McNicholl reported the Alaska trade for the coming summer should be good. Already, he said, there have been many inquiries for schedules and rates, and that, on their return from the conventions, many of the delegates will voyage to Alaska, and then leave at Prince Rupert, on the southbound trip and go into the Canadian Rockies on their way home.

The Olympic games in Los Angeles this summer will draw thousands of eastern people, many of whom will travel across Canada one way.

TO SELL GERMAN TRAINING SHIP

Old Sailing Ship Bremen Has Had Colorful Career in Tramp Business

Bremen, Jan. 8.—Conditions are so bad in the shipping business at the moment that the Bremen Shipowners' Union has decided to sell its well-known sailing ship, Bremen, which it has maintained since the early part of 1926. She has had an interesting career for she was originally one of the famous subsidized German nitrate barques, built in 1902 by the Loire Yard of St. Nazaire. She was a steel barque of 2588 tons, carrying 3,500 tons of nitrate and she was employed almost entirely on the South American trade. The ship survived the war, but by that time the subsidy which permitted these ships to run at a profit, even without cargo, was withdrawn and soon after the Armistice she was transferred to Paris ownership and put on the tramp business, carrying grain from Australia and the River Plate in addition to other cargoes.

After a few years she was sold to H. Schmidt of Hamburg, who renamed her Lisbeth, although there was another sailing ship of the same name afloat and registered at Hamburg, the former British Pendergon Castle. Her new owners continued to use her in the tramp business, although more frequently to the west coast, and also trained a large number of German boys for the sea.

In the early part of 1926 she was sold to the Bremen Shipowners' Association as a training ship and renamed Bremen. Since then she has been employed both in the carriage of cargo and also on purely training cruises in ballast. She finished her last cruise, which was round the North Sea only, in August last, since when she has been laid up in the Weser. It is uncertain whether this sale portends any alteration in the German regulations for experience in sail.

Matheson Lang To Open To-morrow On Empire Screen

Matheson Lang, Britain's supreme stage leader, is now the most highly paid British screen artist. His great screen possibilities, apart from his stage triumphs, are seen in "The Chinese Bungalow" which will open at the Empire Theatre to-morrow.

In this play, he plays the part of Yuan Sing—the Europeanized wealthy mandarin, who owns an elaborate establishment in the Malay States. The story is set in a gorgeous Oriental elegance. It deals with his European wife's secret love affair with a young English planter in the district. It involves her sister, the young planter's brother—leading up to an exceedingly tense dramatic situation.

Matheson Lang as Yuan Sing in his first all-talking picture, repeats the great performance on the screen that he put up in Victoria some years ago, when he appeared in the stage production. The performances will run continuously from 1 to 11 p.m. daily.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Alfred Dreyfus, artillery captain of the French Army, was arrested in 1894 accused of high treason. The only evidence they had was that his handwriting was similar to that of an intercepted letter giving information to Germany that only an artillery officer could know. The picture now at the Empire Theatre graphically shows his arrest, the trial, the degradation ceremony and many exciting events that transpired during the four years that Dreyfus nearly died in solitary confinement on Devil's Island. While he knew very little of what was being done to him, he was a man of great courage, his wife, Lucie, and brother, Mathieu, had interested such men as Emile Zola, the famous writer, and Georges Clemenceau, then a newspaper owner. When Colonel Picquart came across evidence that Dreyfus was innocent, he was given the choice of either silence or resignation as Chief of the Intelligence.

DOMINION THEATRE

The terrific, tropical rainstorm in an early scene of "The Road to Singapore," the Warner Bros. picture starring William Powell, now at the Dominion Theatre, is not to be taken as evidence that the fabled California climate went suddenly loco. If this had been true it would not have helped the makers of the picture, because real rainstorms cannot, for various reasons, be filmed. The downpour is purely synthetic. Supporting Mr. Powell in this darkly glamorous love story of the Ceylonese jungles are Doris Kenyon, Marian Marsh, Louis Calhern, Luise Rainer, Tyrrell Davis and E. E. Anson. Alfred E. Green directed.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Lucille Powers, who plays the leading woman in the "Tiffany" thriller, "The Two-gun Man," now at the Playhouse Theatre, is not yet twenty years of age and is already a star in her own right. During the course of her screen career, which started in 1927, she has played in a number of important roles with such distinguished actors as William Haines and Adolph Menjou. In her latest film she plays opposite Ken Maynard, the most celebrated of all Western film stars. In the part to which she has been assigned, she is offered a number of opportunities to display her talents and she makes the most of every one of them. Dressed in the period which called for ankle-length skirts and small, high waists, her blonde loveliness is displayed at its most beautiful best.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Doris Hill, charming ingenue, who plays the leading feminine role opposite Tim McCoy in his latest Columbia Picture, "The One Way Trail," showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre, is a Wampus Baby star of a few years ago.

She has played in a number of important pictures, and then and is studying seriously to fulfill her ambition to become a dramatic star in the screen world.

In addition to Doris Hill and Tim McCoy, the cast of "The One Way Trail" includes Carroll Nye, Al Ferguson, Robert Romans and Polly Ann Young, younger sister of Loretta Young and Sally Blane.

ROMANO THEATRE

Two nations and two states appear in one magnificent scene in the Radio Pictures—drama of the Sahara, "Beau Ideal." Cameras placed on the California-Arizona line, photographed both these states, the United States and looked far down into Mexico. "Beau Ideal," sequel to "Beau Geste," is at the Romano Theatre. Ralph Forbes and Loretta Young are starred.

COMING TO CAPITOL

Service in the Hungarian Air Corps during the World War caused Paul Lukas to become an enthusiastic devotee of aviation and he is also intensely interested in automobile racing and mechanics in general. Lukas, borrowed from Paramount, comes to the Capitol Theatre next week in one of the featured roles of the sparkling Universal comedy of sophistication, "Strictly Dishonorable," sharing featured honors with Sidney Fox and Lewis Stone.

CLUB INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

District Governor Ainslie Helmcken Officiates at Kinsman Ceremony

Members of the Victoria Kinsman Club gathered in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening to install officers for the 1932 term. Ainslie Helmcken, district governor of the organization, officiated at the ceremony, installing Dr. Arthur Smith in that of the vice-president, and William Dillabough in the post of secretary. Ernest Doyon was officially named assistant secretary, and P. Mulcahy treasurer. With Walter Miles, Herbert Sabiston and Robert Shanks as directors.

Presenting the report of the retiring president, Edward Corby, who was unable to attend the function, Dr. Poyntz sketched the progress of the club during last year.

Robert Shanks, retiring secretary, outlined the welfare work done by the club and expressed the hope the scope of its activities would be widened during 1932. The treasurer's report, submitted by Herbert Sabiston, showed the organization to be in good financial condition, and gave a resume of grants made to charitable institutions during the year.

The members were entertained with an excellent programme given by the following members of the club: L. Huxtable, R. Bassett and A. Food. McKenna, Mawer, of Winnipeg, also supplied novelty features with his guitar, supplemented by vocal solos, which were much appreciated by the Kinsmen.

AMUSING PLAY DISCOURAGING TO BACHELORS

"This Woman Business"
Given First Performance at Royal Victoria Theatre

Honey, the poet in the British Guild Players' new comedy, "This Woman Business," at the Royal Victoria Theatre, yesterday evening, is made to say that man as a woman-hater is just posing; and Miss Crawford, the woman in the case, says something about a man will finish by eating out of her hand. These two professions of what amounts to the same philosophy, though they might seem ominous to an unmarried man who hears them and reflects this is a Leap Year, supply, nevertheless, the foundation of a very amusing three-act comedy, which will be repeated to-night and to-morrow.

"This Woman Business" opens with a bachelor party in an English country house. A discordant note is struck when one of the men, the young poet, who with the other bachelors had resolved to forever women for six months, poses in the female domestic traces of Cleopatra, Helen of Troy, Diana and a few other women of antiquity. Hodges, the millionaire owner of the house, is hurriedly persuaded to dispense with the domestic. But one feels that the celibate resolutions of the bachelors are grounded in quicksand.

However, under the chairmanship of Hodges, the five men hold a meeting in which each gives amusing, if absurd, views on women. Women are catfish, women are unimaginative and uncreative (artistically), women are to be despised or whipped into submission. Just as the elderly sportsman bachelor, Crofts, proposes a toast advocating the abolition of women as an object of male attention, enters Miss Crawford.

ENTER THE WOMAN

Miss Crawford must be sympathized with. She is, merely as a woman, given a very cold reception. For about this, she had been found providing in the garden by the butler, had knocked the butler down when he demonstrated with her in front of his employer; she was an orphan, through a young woman and pretty; she had been forced by the hard grind of a stenographic job to despair and had, to break away from the sordidness brought about by her lack of money, stolen money from her firm.

How this woman is welcomed by the bachelors with feigned boorishness and reluctance, how she wins her way into all their hearts except Hodges, how she adjusts here and reconciles there, how she falls in love with Hodges and plans to make him, an unwilling suitor, "eat out of her hand," supplies the closing chapters of the old, old story, which was young when Eve bent Adam to her will.

Gaby Pay played the part of Miss Crawford very pleasantly; there were quite a few sides to the role and Miss Pay showed fine powers of adaptation. A good character part, though, done somewhat in caricature, was that of the naive, good-natured, hesitating and over-righteous Brown, acted by Frank Vyvyan, the director of the play. Norman Cannon, a man who is according to reports, not much over thirty, took the part of the decrepit superannuated bachelor judge in a studied style and was always a pleasure to watch. Basil Radford as Hodges, James E. Mills as Honey, David Clyde as Crofts, Emerson Court as Addleshaw, Alan Petch as the butler Trent, and Finis Barton as the first domestic, Kettlebank, all added to the entertainment which the play provided an all too small audience.
